

Chad Hall

Chad Hall has invested over a decade helping life travelers connect with their destiny, with others on the journey, and with success. Through his service within spiritual and secular organizations, he has observed timeless principles that transcend church or religion. He brings these truths together with his unique skills as a coach, communicator, and idea developer to impact lives, teams, and companies.

Chad is a success catalyst who delivers results through executive coaching, group coaching, workshops, and as a plenary speaker. He will hold you to your agenda as he helps you discover your dreams and begin living forward into success.

Chad has written on cultural shifts, leadership, organizational change, coaching, spirituality and marketing. His articles and quotations have appeared widely in the media, including: The Leadership Journal, Christianity Today, Fast Company and a number of academic journals. He is currently working on a book around the Six Sigma Life. Chad has contributed to the success of people in a variety of settings, including: The Navigators, Nortel Networks, Wachovia Corporation, Gulf Paper, and NFPs across the US. He has successfully coached teams and individuals from low focus to laser focus, helping them take the next best steps toward getting the right things done well.

Along with graduate degrees from Duke University and Princeton Seminary, Chad has executive education from Kenan Flagler School of Business at UNC and Snipes School of Business at Lenoir-Rhyne College. He is a certified and experienced coach, and is a graduate of the respected Coaches Training Institute (San Rafael, CA). He is also a certified facilitator of FranklinCovey's 7 Habits of Highly Effective People and certified administrator of Myers-Briggs Type Indicator.

Chad positions of leadership add a wealth of experience to his role as a coach:

- Team Leader, Baptist State Convention of NC
- Senior Coach/Trainer with Valwood Christian Leadership Coaching
- Founding Pastor of Connection Church of Hickory

Chad is delighted to be a Lead Like Jesus Coach. As a Founding Partner of The Columbia Partnership and as one of the authors of the agreement between TCP and the Lead Like Jesus organization, he brings a high commitment to helping you inhabit the leadership principles of Jesus.