

John R. Bost

John has over 30 years experience in education, spanning the pre-school years through graduate school. Twenty years were spent in the public school sector serving the classroom in all sciences, followed by fifteen years experience in administration and community development.

A certified executive coach, he holds a Bachelor of Science (BS) degree, a Master of Arts (MA) degree in Community Education & Resource Development as well as an Education Specialist Degree (Ed.S) in Leadership & Administration from Appalachian State University in Boone, North Carolina.

John is an ordained Elder at First Assembly of God in Winston-Salem, and has served on the pastoral staff for over 14 years. He serves as chairman of the board of Assembly Terrace, a church sponsored non-profit offering affordable housing for senior citizens. He served seven years on the Winston-Salem/Forsyth County Planning Board, various Early Childhood initiatives, the Infant Mortality Coalition and has been actively involved in several Community Development Corporations. John is President and owner of Master Counsel and Associates, Inc., which offers planning and coaching services for various non-profits and church-based organizations, to include real estate acquisition and development.